

Pun Hlaing Golf Estate in Myanmar Launches Water Treatment Plant

Yangon, Myanmar, 18 May 2015 – Yoma Strategic Holdings Ltd. (“Yoma Strategic”), today announced the opening of its Potable Water Plant at Pun Hlaing Golf Estate. The plant is designed and supplied by Hyflux, a leading global water solutions provider, and aims to deliver high quality drinking water straight to the taps of residents of the estate.

The development will see Pun Hlaing Golf Estate as the first real estate development in Myanmar to have its own Hyflux water treatment plant. The plant uses Hyflux’s proprietary Kristal ultrafiltration technology and brackish water reverse osmosis technology to provide quality drinking water for the estate. It is designed with a treatment capacity of 1,000 m³/day, and is expandable to 2,500 m³/day providing a constant production of potable water.

Cyrus Pun, Executive Director and Head of Real Estate said, “Yoma Strategic has always been committed to offering an international standard of living at the Pun Hlaing Golf Estate and making it the best preferred place to live in Myanmar. Providing access to clean and safe drinking water is essential to this and we’re pleased that we can offer our residents such a high standard of drinking water, giving them peace of mind.”

According to Hyflux, water produced at the Potable Water Plant significantly exceeds the World Health Organisation's Water Guidelines.

Designed to integrate into the landscape maintaining the aesthetic appeal of the real estate development, the Potable Water Plant represents part of a new era for Pun Hlaing Golf Estate which recently saw the completion of the Byaint Naung Bridge. The bridge increases accessibility to the real estate development which has a shuttle bus service to downtown Yangon on a daily basis.

Yoma Strategic also recently opened sales of its Lotus Garden Place Villas, a cluster of 30 elegant and spacious semi-detached residences complete with terraces and gardens offering panoramic views of the Estate's beautifully landscape community. It is part of three Lotus-branded developments within the Pun Hlaing Golf Estate which are due to be completed in two stages in 2015.
